Principal's Notes

President Obama will deliver his third annual Back-to-School Speech at 1:30 PM., Eastern time, on Wednesday, September 28th, 2011, from Benjamin Banneker Academic High School in Washington, DC. During last year's speech, President Obama encouraged students to study hard, stay in school, and take responsibility for their education.

Gwinnett County Public Schools will follow the same process as last year regarding this televised event, allowing as many students as possible to see the broadcast. The President is scheduled to speak for 15 to 20 minutes. The speech coincides with the beginning of school for many school districts across America. However, for systems like Gwinnett, the school year is underway and the schedule may present challenges for schools because of activities and events already scheduled. .

If any parent does not want his/her child to view the broadcast, the local school and teachers will make accommodations to honor the parent's wishes. Please let your classroom teacher know if you prefer that your child not watch the address.

I wanted to thank all of our dads who came to breakfast in the last two weeks! It is always great to have dads involved in our school and the kids LOVE having their dads come!

I hope that your weekend is wonderful!

Kathy Jones, Principal

Individual Picture Day
